

PARTNER OF LABOUR MOVEMENT

Lee Yong Quan

Executive Committee Member
Singapore Industrial & Services Employees' Union
Industrial Sector Chairperson
Young NTUC 9th Term Committee

Nominated by Young NTUC.

Lee Yong Quan's involvement with Young NTUC began in 2017 when he served on the 7th Term Young NTUC Committee. Throughout his tenure, he consistently demonstrated unwavering commitment as an advocate for the concerns of young workers in Singapore. His active engagement and ability to articulate ground-level issues earned him respect among fellow young union leaders, resulting in his election as the Chairperson of the Industrial sector for the 8th and 9th term Young NTUC committee.

Brother Yong Quan has represented Young NTUC on various national and international platforms. In 2022, he participated in a Presidential Dialogue at the Istana with then-President Mdm Halimah Yacob, addressing the impact of technological disruptions on jobs in the industrial sector. Brother Yong Quan was also a presenter at the NTUC Labour Research Conference 2022 for the topic 'Power to Participate: Building Young Voices, Choices, and Experiences', where he shared insights about Young NTUC's initiatives supporting youths' career pursuits. Internationally, Brother Yong Quan represented NTUC at the 5th ITUC-AP Regional Conference, contributing to the rich discussions with international counterparts. Collaborating with Young NTUC, he hosted youth delegates from Asia Pacific attending the ITUC AP Youth Leadership Course in 2022 and 2023, where he shared about Singapore's tripartism model and his experiences as a union leader.

Brother Yong Quan played a vital role in fostering collaboration and strengthening the relationship between Young NTUC and Young PAP. Through knowledge-sharing sessions and joint initiatives, such as organising an Amazing Race event to commemorate Mr Lee Kuan Yew's birth anniversary, he contributed significantly to building bridges between the two organisations. Beyond his unionist role, Brother Yong Quan is a staunch advocate of mental well-being in the workplace. As a trained WSQ Certified Peer Supporter, he actively represents Young NTUC in discussions and dialogues about mental well-being. His passion and dedication have established him as a credible voice for workers and a reliable partner within the Labour Movement, embodying the principles of advocacy, collaboration, and holistic support for the workforce.
