

PARTNER OF LABOUR MOVEMENT

Kyaw Myo Naing

Air-conditioning and Refrigeration Engineering Technician

Greenland Technology Pte Ltd

Nominated by the Migrant Workers' Centre.

Kyaw Myo Naing has been volunteering with the Migrant Workers' Centre (MWC) as an ambassador since 2021. He looks out for workers facing issues at work and is seen as a big brother role to his peers. In the past year alone, he has encouraged around 10 troubled migrant workers (MWs) to seek help from MWC.

Brother Kyaw is always ready to come forward to support MWC and reach out to fellow MWs through the various initiatives and programmes MWC organises. Some include engagement booths in the various dormitories, police walkabouts to share information about anti-scam, and MWC membership drives. He gave constructive feedback and suggestions when asked. Brother Kyaw was one of the participants in focus group discussions co-organised by MWC and NEST—the focus group discussion aimed to socialise some ideas on a migrant worker app that NEST was developing.

Brother Kyaw believes in MWC's core values and actively supports our membership recruitment efforts. At our major events, such as International Migrants Day and festive celebrations, he sacrifices his rest days to volunteer at our membership recruitment booths. Despite his introverted demeanour, as Kyaw is committed to creating awareness on key matters for his fellow countrymen, he has volunteered for projects that involved filming and photographing to feature him in short films that target migrant workers.
