

COMRADE OF LABOUR

Mahfud Jurami

Executive Council Member
Singapore Port Workers Union

Nominated by the Singapore Port Workers Union

Mahfud Jurami is a strong advocate for rewarding workers fairly based on their contributions.

He constantly provides valuable and timely feedback from the ground, especially when it comes to issues such as bonuses and incentives for members.

As a member of the Industrial Relations Committee, Brother Mahfud has been successful in securing better incentives and allowances for the members over the years.

He has contributed significantly towards the improvement of wages and benefits of many workers. When he encounters members in need, he is always ready to lend a listening ear and helping hand.

He is also dedicated to advancing the interests of the members in his division, and actively seeks to understand the issues and problems faced by the members at their workplace.

A strong champion of tripartism, Brother Mahfud also actively engages his management partners to strengthen the parties' labour-management relations.

His pleasant personality also allows him to be readily approachable. As a mentor to new employees in PSA, he does not hesitate to share his knowledge and experience.

As such, he is seen as a committed and well-respected union leader on the ground.

Brother Mahfud is a strong advocate for working and playing hard and actively encourages members to stay healthy.

He encourages workers to participate in sports and wellness programmes and helps to coordinate sports and wellness activities organised by NTUC Club.

As a yard crane operator working on the ground, he often provides feedback and participates actively in discussing future jobs and skills-sets of port workers with the management.

Brother Mahfud values the importance of continuous learning and upgrading. As such, he constantly encourages members to keep abreast to the changes that arise from digitalisation and transformation.

He has also completed his diploma in employment relations, a joint programme by the Ong Teng Cheong Labour Leadership Institute and Singapore University of Social Sciences

He is proactive in rallying to the ground to support the development of Tuas Mega Port.