

ntuc

MAY DAY

AWARDS

2 0 2 5

MODEL WORKER

Wong Nyap Kie

Lead I

ST Engineering Aerospace Precision Products Pte Ltd

Nominated by the ST Engineering Staff Union (STESU)

Since joining Precision Polymer Solutions (PPS) on 26 June 2003, Wong Nyap Kie has demonstrated exceptional dedication and growth, rising from an Operator to a Lead I in the Casting department. His journey reflects his self-driven nature and relentless pursuit of excellence.

Brother Nyap Kie played a key role in the recent Company Training Committee (CTC) project on Casting Simulation, ensuring its successful implementation. This initiative has significantly improved the department's troubleshooting and development capabilities by integrating casting simulation into daily operations. His technical expertise and proactive approach have been vital in driving this transformation.

As both a team player and an outstanding performer, Brother Nyap Kie consistently demonstrates exemplary leadership. He effectively manages work and job assignments within the Casting department, leading a team of 10 workers. His ability to inspire and guide his team has been instrumental in maintaining high performance standards and productivity.

Beyond his technical skills, Brother Nyap Kie is deeply committed to the welfare and development of his colleagues, fostering a supportive and collaborative work environment. His enthusiasm and passion for his role are evident in his daily interactions and the positive influence he has on his team.

In recognition of his significant contributions, Brother Nyap Kie has played a crucial role in advancing the organisation's goals. His dedication, leadership, and innovative mindset make him a truly deserving recipient of this honour.