MODEL WORKER

Linus Ng Chong Cheak

Senior Operations Excellence Manager
ST Engineering Land Systems Ltd

Nominated by the ST Engineering Staff Union

Linus Ng Chong Cheak exemplifies the qualities of a model worker—proactive, adaptable, and innovative. His leadership in driving Company Training Committee (CTC) Grant projects within ST Engineering Land Systems has resulted in significant business transformations while creating valuable upskilling opportunities for workers.

Brother Linus consistently demonstrates a readiness to embrace new challenges and enhance productivity. Through his efforts, business operations have improved, and the workforce has remained competitive and adaptable in a rapidly evolving landscape.

Beyond his contributions to the organisation, Brother Linus is deeply committed to his own professional development. By continuously upskilling and acquiring new knowledge, Brother Linus strengthens his ability to advise and support the business effectively. His dedication to digital transformation reflects his resilience and forward-thinking mindset.

Brother Linus' ability to lead and inspire, combined with his technical expertise and passion for continuous learning, makes him highly deserving of this recognition. He truly embodies the spirit of Worker 4.0, driving both personal and organisational growth through his innovative and adaptable approach.
