MODEL WORKER

Indra Ravindran

Senior Administrative Officer
Singapore Port Workers Union

Nominated by the Singapore Port Workers Union

For an extraordinary 43 years, Indra Ravindran has been a cornerstone of the Singapore Port Workers Union (SPWU), exemplifying unwavering dedication and meticulous attention to detail. As the union's longest-serving staff member, she has consistently supported union members, leaders, and colleagues with professionalism and care.

Sister Indra embodies self-drive and a passion for growth, embracing digital transformation by upskilling in tools like Google Forms, Microsoft Forms, and Canva. Her adaptability and proactive approach to learning have set a positive example for her peers. With her deep institutional knowledge, she provides invaluable insights that enhance SPWU's operations and effectiveness.

Renowned for her ability to resolve countless member queries over the years, Sister Indra collaborates closely with union leaders to address issues efficiently. Her calm demeanour, approachable nature, and warm smile have reassured and inspired members and colleagues alike. As a mentor, she generously shares her expertise, offering guidance with encouragement and kindness.
