

COMRADE OF LABOUR

Jeromy Phang Yew Meng

Executive Council Member

Food, Drinks and Allied Workers Union (FDAWU)

Nominated by the Food, Drinks and Allied Workers Union.

Jeromy Phang Yew Meng has been the key connection between Mandarin Oriental Singapore (MOSIN) and the union, allowing labour-management relations to be strengthened over the years.

Due to his strong rapport with union members, he is highly attuned to ground sentiments, enabling him to provide valuable insights and information that are critical in negotiations for wage increments and collective agreements. He is also proactive in finding industry standards from other hotel branches, facilitating discussions with MOSIN management on adopting more progressive and good practices in the company.

Brother Jeromy is a strong advocate for lifelong learning and continuous upskilling. This is evident through his commitment to attend Ong Teng Cheong Labour Leadership Institute's training whenever possible, and he also encourages his branch committee members to do the same. He serves as an exemplary role for his fellow workers, inspiring them to continue upskilling.
