

ntuc

MAY DAY

AWARDS

2 0 2 5

COMRADE OF LABOUR

Evon Teo Shiok Yee

Executive Committee Member
ST Engineering Staff Union (STESU)

Nominated by the ST Engineering Staff Union

Evon Teo Shiok Yee has consistently championed union members, demonstrating exceptional leadership in negotiations with management to enhance terms and conditions within the Collective Agreement. In 2020, during the restructuring of the ST Engineering group, she played a pivotal role in protecting the interests and well-being of her branch members. Her support was instrumental in the formation of the ST Engineering Staff Union (STESU). She was elected to the Executive Committee at the inaugural delegates' conference, underscoring her commitment to advocacy and representation.

Recognised for her approachable and supportive nature, Sister Evon creates a welcoming environment where members feel comfortable voicing their concerns. She frequently engages with them through various platforms, making her the go-to person for addressing any issues. Always attentive, she ensures that issues are resolved promptly, fostering a culture of trust and collaboration within the community.

Before joining STESU, Sister Evon made a significant impact as the General Secretary of the former ST Engineering Employees' Union, advocating tirelessly for workers' rights. Her commitment to social justice enriches her current role. As a member of the STESU Executive Committee, she actively plans and organises activities designed to engage and empower members, promoting participation and building a strong sense of community.

Additionally, Sister Evon is a member of the NTUC Information and Communications Technology Cluster, where she stays informed about developments and shares best practices with her colleagues. Her multifaceted involvement showcases her unwavering commitment to improving the lives of others.

A strong advocate for training and upskilling, Sister Evon consistently encourages her fellow members to pursue development opportunities. A dedicated supporter of the Company Training Committee, she proactively partners with the company on various transformation projects that enhance job value.