

PARTNER OF LABOUR MOVEMENT

Low Wan Jing

Vice-President, Planning & Policy, Human Capital
Singapore Economic Development Board

Nominated by the United Workers of Electronics & Electrical Industries

Low Wan Jing played an instrumental role in supporting the United Workers of Electronics & Electrical Industries (UWEEI) to promote tripartism and secure better worker outcomes. Sister Wan Jing is people-oriented and quick to lend a helping hand to address concerns on the ground. When there were complex industrial relations matters, she facilitated discussions that contributed to the resolution of cases.

Sister Wan Jing also led her team to support discussions between UWEEI and companies. She articulated both parties' interests and concerns and offered valuable insights and ideas. Her effort resulted in successful outcomes, such as forming a Company Training Committee between companies and the union.

Sister Wan Jing has been an essential bridge between UWEEI and Singapore Economic Development Board (EDB). She promotes a greater understanding of tripartism amongst newer officers and constantly seeks opportunities. She was key in facilitating an inaugural networking session between UWEEI and EDB officers. Sister Wan Jing can rely on her network, experience and sincerity to build stronger relationships between the tripartite and management partners across all levels.
